

HEALTH & SAFETY POLICIES FOR AUDIENCE MEMBERS

The following was last updated on June 9th, 2020 with information that has been provided by the BC CDC, ActSafe BC, WorkSafe BC and other federal and provincial health agencies. Please note that during these times, COVID protection plans are ever changing and all items below should be cross-referenced for accuracy through your own Provincial Health Center, even those listed above. A list of these centers is provided at the end of the section. For the most recent, Federal up-to-date information please see: <https://www.canada.ca/en/public-health/services/diseases/coronavirus-disease-covid-19.html>

Six Commitments of Staff, Artists, Audience & Board (aka Six Mindful Approaches for Everyday Situations)

- My personal hygiene is continually being evaluated, especially when around others
- I commit to staying home if I am sick, or feel unwell; if I am displaying symptoms or if I have been advised to by a health professional
- I will maintain the environmental hygiene around me, and will be aware of spaces I enter
- I am conducting myself in a way that leads to safe, social interactions
- I will make, or suggest, physical modifications to the spaces around me if required
- I will refuse work if I feel uncomfortable and report it to my supervisor for immediate review

Information for Audience Members

Rumble has taken all steps to ensure the safety of our staff, performers and you, our audience. While we've taken precautions, by entering one of our spaces you are acknowledging risk. We cannot accept blame should you get sick. We have invited you to attend of your own willingness, and should you feel unsafe - it's ok not to come. We want you to be safe; we want ourselves to be safe, too. That's the most important thing.

- Please do not enter if you are feeling sick, have symptoms, have come into close contact with a person exhibiting symptoms, or have been traveling out of the country within the last 14 days. Rumble staff will gladly assist in providing you with a refund, or in rescheduling you for another future Rumble performance.
- Audiences must follow public health and safety guidelines (i.e. social distancing) until such a time as those restrictions have been lifted. Any audience member found not to be following these guidelines may be asked to leave the performance.
- We ask that you do not arrive until the specified start time to prevent unnecessary gathering time.

- We ask that you familiarize themselves with the handwashing stations available, and to wash your hands as frequently as possible. Rumble will ensure that there is adequate soap and disposable towels.
- PPE - if you wish to wear a mask/gloves you are welcome to, but it is not required.
- We ask that you vacate the venue immediately after the performance.
- While waiting for and while exiting from your performance, please ensure you are maintaining 6' social distancing.
